Mrs. Jesse Hughes Miller Passes Away.

The announcement upon the streets Saturday morning that Mrs. Jesse Hughes Miller, the wife of Mr. Bruce Miller, had passed away, was a shock to the many friends of the deceased and cast a gloom over the entire community.

Mrs. Miller was the daughter of the late James M. Hughes and Mrs. Rebecca Hughes, and was preceded to the grave by a half brother, Mr. Nathan Bayles, only a few weeks ago.

Mrs. Miller had been in her usual health up to Friday morning and being of a domestic nature had spent the first of the week in canning fruit. On Friday morning she was not feeling well and remained in bed. Her family physician visiting her during the day.

Her husband, Mr. Bruce Miller, editor of the Kentuckian-Citizen, and whose duties called him to his office Friday evening, was called up by her at about 8 o'clock, telling him she was feeling badly and for him to come home as soon as possible. Mr. Miller started for home at once and upon his arrival there summoned a physician, who administered to her and left not thinking she was in any immediate danger.

The devoted husband sitting by her side upon the bed noticed her heavy breathing at midnight and endeavored to arouse her. He raised her in his arms and asked if she knew him, and she replied, "Yes, Bruce," and sank into unconsciousness from which she never rallied.

Physicians were summoned at once, and all that medical skill could do was done to save this lovely young woman to her devoted young husband and aged mother. The fatal uremic poisoning, however, had done its deadly work and she passed away at 9:15 o'clock Saturday morning.

Death at all times is sad, but in this case it is doubly sad. It takes from the aged mother the only child left to comfort her in her declining years. It tears the loving wife from the arms of a loving husband. For eleven years this young couple had lived together in the closest and fondest communion of two loving hearts, and it can truly be said in this case that it was "two souls with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one."

We mourn with this aged and fond mother who idolized this daughter, and with this heartbroken husband in the loss of one whom we know he cherished with the fondest of love and affection, and this entire community mourns with them and extends heartfelt sympathy. The dark cloud that is now hovering over this saddened household may seem one with no silver lining, but mother, husband, cast thy sorrows and burdens at the feet of Him who giveth and who taketh away and surely He will give you assurances that will comfort you, such comfort that earthly friends cannot give.

Mrs. Miller was 38 years of age, and is survived by her husband and mother.

The funeral services were held at the family residence near town yesterday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, conducted by Elder Carey E. Morgan, of the Christian church, of which the deceased had long been a member. Burial at Paris cemetery.

Active pall-bearers were: Albert Hinton, Ford Brent, Swift Champ, J. H. Bacon, Dr. Bruce Smith, J. H. Rosberry. Honorary: J. J. McClintock, Wm. Myall, J. T. Hinton, Sr., Dr. Silas Evans, T. H. Tarr, W. E. Board.

Geo. Batterton Announces.

Mr. George Batterton is announced in this issue as a candidate for County Attorney of Bourbon county. Mr. Batterton is a son of Mr. Alfred Batterton, and was born and raised on the farm in Centerville precinct and has been a member of the Paris bar for two years. He is graduate of the Law School of Central University, Danville. He is a popular young gentleman and well qualified to fill the office to which he aspires, and if elected would make an efficient officer.

The New Bridge.

What has become of the Committee appointed by the Fiscal Court to look into the matter of building a new bridge over Stoner at the foot of Main street, in place of the old out of date wooden structure that has been there for the past hundred years. This is a matter that should not be side-tracked and the people of East Paris and farmers generally who live in that end of the county say they will see that it is not sidetracked. If there was ever a new bridge needed in Bourbon county, one is needed at this place. The one standing there now is a disgrace to Bourbon county.

Prices will never again be equaled; a complete stock from our Owensboro store offered in this at-cost sale.

Sid Baxter Company at the Grand

At a salary that is far in excess of any of the vaudeville acts seen at the theatre of McMahan & Jackson, in this city, the management has secured for the entertainment of the patrons one of the most marvelous slack wire acts that has ever been seen on the local stage. Sid Baxter, whose reputation as a marvel on the slack wire extends from coast to coast and from the Gulf to the Dominion line, direct from Keith's Fourteenth Street Theatre, New York city, opened a three night's engagement at the Grand last night.

Baxter is the originator of going through the frame of a bicycle on the wire. The trick is a rather difficult one while a wheel is resting on the ground, and is therefore far from being a cinch to performer while the bicycle is balanced upon a wire. He rides on the slack wire with several kinds of bicycles, including unicycle, and his juggling is also a marvelous performance.

Several years ago, while touring the Hawaiian Islands, upon a wager made with Hilo parties Baxter agreed to walk on a slack wire across the crater of the great Hilo volcano, and at a point that would place him about 600 feet above the crater, go through the same performance that he is now doing at the Grand. His towering ambitions were nipped in the bud by the authorities who believed that he would be over come by the dense sulphur fumes arising, which would cost him his life, and the construction of the cable across the crater's mouth was stopped.

Mr. Baxter is assisted in his performance at the Grand by Miss Beatrice Southwick, whose work is perfect. Miss Southwick is alive to the requirements that are necessary to put the Sid Baxter Company in the front rank on the vaudeville stage, and her pleasing personality and fine work are supplemented by the wearing of some smart costumes, not so elaborate as to give them a gaudy appearance, but just enough to form a pleasing contrast with that of the averaged vaudeville actress.

Then there is another vaudeville feature at the Grand—H. W. Crowden, singing and talking comedian—whose efforts were highly appreciated by those present at the performance last evening. The illustrated song was also another feature. Two sets of the latest motion pictures opened and concluded one of the best and most entertaining bills that the Messrs. McMahan & Jackson have ever presented to their patrons.

Illinois Lynchings.

The second lynching of the Springfield, Ill., riot occurred Saturday night. A negro was strung up to a telephone pole by a mob of such proportions that the firemen and police who responded to the first alarm were unable to handle it. Re-enforcement of troops were sent for and dispersed the mob, which was of such proportions as to be almost beyond control. A white man was killed by negroes on the outskirts of the city. More houses were burned and there were outbreaks of varying proportions in various parts of the city.

Just think of it, all this happened on the other side of the Ohio river. Shame on you Illinois people, to lynch a negro just because he assaulted and ravished a white woman. This would be horrible if it had happened in Kentucky. The Northern newspapers should now cease their howling about Kentucky mobs. Southerners don't go as far as the Northerners do. They hang the culprits, but do not drive all of the innocent negroes out of the South, and burn their homes. Maybe the negroes will some day realize who are their real friends.

PLEASED WITH PLATFORM

PROMISES IN THE FUTURE TO DEAL WITH THE PLANKS
IN DETAIL.

Policies of the Republicans Come In for Bitter Criticism in the Speech of Acceptance—Declares Country Needs Change in Ruling Party—Publicity for Campaign Contributions, He Says, is Democratic Idea —Not a Foe to Wealth Honestly Acquired—If Elected, Promises
Justice to All.

Lincoln, Neb.—William Jennings Bryan was formally notified of his nomination by the Democratic party for the presidency of the United States. Henry D. Clayton of Alabama was the spokesman of the notification committee. Mr. Bryan's speech of acceptance follows:

Mr. Clayton and Gentlemen of the Notification Committee: I can not accept the nomination which you officially tender, without first acknowledging my deep indebtedness to the Democratic party for the extraordinary honor which it has conferred upon me. Having twice before been a candidate for the presidency, in campaigns which ended in defeat, a third nomination, and a third time voluntary act of the voters of the party, can only be explained by a substantial and undisputed growth in the principles and policies for which I, with a multitude of others, have contended.
As these principles and policies have given me whatever political strength I possess, the action of the convention not only renews my faith in them, but strengthens my attachment to them.

A Platform is Binding.

I shall, in the near future, prepare a more formal reply to your notification and, in that letter of acceptance, will deal with the platform in detail. It is sufficient, at this time, to assure you that I am in hearty accord with both the letter and the spirit of the platform. I interpose it in whole and in part, and shall, if elected, regard its declarations as binding upon me. And, I may add, a platform is binding as to what it omits as well as to what it contains. According to the Democratic idea, the people think for themselves and select officials to carry out their wishes. The voters are the sovereigns; the officials are the servants, employed for a fixed time and at a stated salary to do what the sovereigns want done, and to do it in the way the sovereigns want it done. Platforms are entirely in harmony with this Democratic idea. A platform announces the party's position on questions which are at issue; and an official is not at liberty to use the authority vested in him to urge personal views which have not been submitted to the voters for their consideration. If he is nominated upon a platform which is not satisfactory to him, he must, if candid, either decline the nomination, or, in accepting it, propose an amended platform in lieu of the one adopted by the convention. No such situation, however, confronts your candidate, for the platform upon which I was nominated not only contains nothing from which I dissent, but it specifically outlines all the remedial legislation which we can hope to secure during the next four years.

Republican Challenge Accepted.

The distinguished statesman who received the Republican nomination for president said, in his notification speech:
"The strength of the Republican cause in the campaign at hand, is the fact that we represent the policies essential to the reform of known abuses, to the conservation of liberty and true prosperity, and that we are determined, as our platform unequivocally declares, to maintain them and carry them on."

In the name of the Democratic party, I accept the challenge, and charge that the Republican party is responsible for all the abuses which now exist in the federal government, and that it is impotent to accomplish the reforms which are imperatively needed. Further, I can not concur in the statement that the Republican platform unequivocally declares for the reforms that are necessary. On the contrary, I affirm that it openly and notoriously disappoints the hopes and expectations of reformers, whether those reformers be Republicans or Democrats.
So far did the Republican convention fall short of its duty that the Republican candidate felt it necessary to add to his platform in several important particulars, thus rebuking the leaders of the party, upon whose co-operation he must rely for the enactment of remedial legislation.

As I shall, in separate speeches, discuss the leading questions at issue, I shall at this time confine myself to the paramount question, and to the far-reaching purpose of our party, as that purpose is set forth in the platform.

Shall the People Rule?

Our platform declares that the overshadowing issue which manifests itself in all the questions now under discussion, is "Shall the people rule?" No matter which way we answer, no matter what subject we address ourselves, the same question confronts us: Shall the people control their own government, and use that government for the protection of their rights and for the promotion of their welfare? Or shall the representatives of predatory wealth prey upon the defenseless public, while the offenders secure immunity from subservient officials whom they raise to power by unscrupulous methods? This is the issue raised by the "known abuses" to which Mr. Taft refers.

The President's Indictment Against the Party.

In a message sent to congress last January, President Roosevelt said: "The attacks by these great corporations on the administration's actions have been given a wide circulation throughout the country, in the newspapers and otherwise, by those writers and speakers who, consciously or unconsciously, act as the representatives of predatory wealth—the wealth accumulated on a giant scale by all forms of iniquity, ranging from the oppression of wage earners to unfair and unwholesome methods of crushing out competition, and to defrauding the public by stock-jobbing and the manipulation of securities. Certain wealthy men of this stamp, whose conduct should be condemned to every man of ordinary decent conscience, and who commit the hideous wrong of teaching our young men that phenomenal business success must ordinarily be based on dishonesty, have, during the last few months, made it apparent that they have banded together for a reaction. Their endeavor is to overthrow and discredit all who honestly administer the law, to prevent any additional legislation which would check and restrain them, and to secure, if possible, a freedom from all restraint which will permit every unscrupulous wrongdoer by railroad, the wishes unchecked, provided he has enough money."—What an arraignment of the predatory interests!

Is the president's indictment true? And if true, against whom was the indictment directed? Not against the Democratic party.

Mr. Taft Indorses the Indictment.

Mr. Taft says that these evils have crept in during the last ten years. He declares that, during this time, some prominent and influential members of the community, spurred by financial success and in the hurry of the great wealth, became unmindful of the common rules of business honesty and fidelity, and of the limitations imposed by law upon their actions; and that "the revelations of the breaches of trusts, the disclosures as to rebates and discriminations by railroad, the wishes unchecked, evidence of the violations of the anti-trust laws, by a number of corporations, and the over-issue of stocks and bonds of interstate railroads for the unlawful enriching of directors and for the purpose of concentrating the control of the railroads under one management"—all these charges, "quickened the conscience of the people and brought on a moral awakening."

During all this time, I beg to remind you, Republican officials presided in the executive department, filled the cabinet, served in the senate, controlled the house of representatives and occupied most of the federal judgeships. Four years ago the Republican platform boastfully declared that since 1890—with the exception of two years—the Republican party had been in control of part or of all the branches of the federal government; that for two years only was the Democratic party in a position to either enact or repeal a law. Having drawn the salaries; having enjoyed the honors; having secured the prestige, let the Republican party accept the responsibility!

Republican Party Responsible.

Why were these "known abuses" permitted to develop? Why have they not been corrected? If existing laws are sufficient, why have they not been enforced? All of the executive machinery of the federal government is in the hands of the Republican party. Are new laws necessary? Why have they not been enacted? With a Republican president to recommend, with a Republican senate and house to carry out his recommendations, why does the Republican candidate plead for further time in which to do what should have been done long ago? Can Mr. Taft promise to be more strenuous in the prosecution of wrongdoers than the present executive? Can he ask for a larger majority in the senate than his party now has? Does he need more Republicans in the house of representatives or a speaker with more unlimited authority?

Why No Tariff Reform?

The president's close friends have been promising for several years that he would attack the iniquities of the tariff. We have had in the person of Mr. Taft, a resolute under the demands of the highly protected industries. And yet the influence of the manufacturers, who have for 25 years contributed to the Republican campaign fund, and who in return have framed the tariff schedules, has been sufficient to prevent tariff reform. As the present campaign approached, both the president and Mr. Taft declared in favor of tariff revision, but set the date of revision after the election. But the pressure brought to bear by the protected interests has been great enough to prevent any attempt at tariff reform before the election; and the reduction promised after the election is so hedged about with qualifying phrases, that no one can estimate with accuracy the sum total of tariff reform to be expected in case of Republican success. If the past can be taken as a guide, the Republican party will be so obligated by campaign contributions from the beneficiaries of protection, as to make that party powerless to bring to the country any material relief from the present tariff burdens.

Why No Anti-Trust Legislation?

A few years ago the Republican leaders in the house of representatives were coerced by public opinion into the support of an anti-trust law which had the indorsement of the president, but the senate refused even to consider the measure, and since that time no effort has been made by the dominant party to secure remedial legislation upon this subject.

Why No Railroad Legislation?

For ten years the Interstate Commerce Commission has been asking for an enlargement of its powers, that it might prevent rebates and discriminations, but a Republican senate and a Republican house of representatives were unmoved by its entreaties. In 1906 the Republican national convention was urged to indorse the demand for railway legislation, but its platform was silent on the subject.
Even in 1904, the convention gave no pledge to remedy these abuses. When the president finally asked for legislation, he drew his inspiration from three Democratic national platforms and he received more cordial support from the Democrats than from the Republicans. The Republicans in the senate deliberately defeated several amendments offered by Senator La Follette and supported by the Democrats—amendments embodying legislation asked by the Interstate Commerce Commission. One of these amendments authorized the ascertainment of the value of railroads. This amendment was not only defeated by the senate, but it was overwhelmingly rejected by the recent Republican national convention and the Republican candidate has sought to rescue his party from the disastrous results of this act by expressing himself, in a qualified way, in favor of ascertaining the value of the railroads.

Over-Issue of Stocks and Bonds.

Mr. Taft complains of the over-issue of stocks and bonds of railroads, "for the unlawful enriching of directors and for the purpose of concentrating the control of the railroads under one management," and the complaint is well founded. But, with a president to point out the evil, and a Republican congress to correct it, we find nothing done for the protection of the public. Why? My honorable opponent has, by his confession, relieved me of the necessity of furnishing proof; he admits the condition and he can not avoid the logical conclusion that it is to be drawn from the admission.
There is no doubt whatever that a large majority of the voters of the Republican party recognize the deplorable situation which Mr. Taft describes; they recognize that the masses have had but little influence upon legislation or upon the administration of the government, and they are beginning to understand the cause. For a generation, the Republican party has drawn its campaign funds from the beneficiaries of special legislation. Privileges have been pledged and granted in return for money contributed to debase elections. What can be expected when official authority is turned over to the representatives of those who first furnish the sinews of war and then reimburse themselves out of the pockets of the taxpayers?

Fasting in Wilderness Necessary.

So long as the Republican party remains in power, it is powerless to regenerate itself. It can not attack wrongdoing in high places without disgracing many of its prominent members, and it, therefore, uses opiates instead of the surgeon's knife. Its malefactors construe such Republican victory as an endorsement of their conduct and threaten the party with defeat if they are interfered with. Not until that party passes through a period of fasting in the wilderness, will the Republican leaders learn to study public questions from the standpoint of the masses. Just as with individuals, "the cares of this world and the deceitfulness of riches choke the truth," so in politics, when party leaders serve far away from home and are not in constant contact with the voters, continued party success "chokes" them deaf to the cry of distress.

Publicity as to Campaign Contributions.

An effort has been made to secure legislation requiring publicity as to campaign contributions and expenditures; but the Republican leaders, even in the face of an indignant public, refused to consent to a law which would compel honesty in elections. When the matter was brought up in the recent Republican national convention, the plank was repudiated by a vote of 890 to 84. Here, too, Mr. Taft has been driven to apologize for his convention and to declare himself in favor of a publicity law; and yet, if you will read what he says upon this subject, you will find that his promise fails far short trust magnate contributes $100,000 to political friends to office, with a view to preventing hostile legislation, why should that fact be concealed until his friends are securely seated in their official positions?

This is not a new question; it is a question which has been agitated—a question which the Republican leaders fully understand—a question which the Republican candidate has studied, and yet he refuses to declare himself in favor of the legislation absolutely necessary, namely, legislation requiring publication before the election.

How can the people hope to rule, if they are not able to learn until after the election what the predatory interests are doing? The Democratic party meets the issue honestly and courageously. It says: "We pledge the Democratic party to the enactment of a law prohibiting any corporation from contributing to a campaign fund, and any individual from contributing an amount above a reasonable maximum, and providing for the publication, before election, of all such contributions above a reasonable minimum."

The Democratic national committee immediately proceeded to interpret and apply this plank, announcing that no contributions would be received from corporations, that no individual would be allowed to contribute more than $10,000, and that all contributions above $100 would be made public before the election—those received before October 15 to be made public on or before that day, those received afterward to be made public on the day when received, and no such contributions to be accepted within three days of the election. The expenditures are to be published after the election. Here is a plan which is complete and effective.

Popular Election of Senators.

Next to the corrupt use of money, the present method of electing United States senators of the people on this subject. The subject was ignored by the Republican national convention in 1900; it was ignored in 1904 and the proposition was explicitly repudiated in 1908, for the recent Republican national convention, by a vote of 886 to 114, rejected the plank endorsing the popular election of senators—and this was done in the convention which nominated Mr. Taft, few delegates from his own state voting for the plank.

Personal Inclination Not Sufficient.

In his notification speech, the Republican candidate, speaking of the election of senators by the people, says: "Personally, I am inclined to favor it, but it is hardly a party question." What is necessary to make this a party question? When the Democratic convention vote, and the Republican convention rejects the proposition by a vote of seven to one, does it not become an issue between the parties? Mr. Taft can not remove the question from the arena of politics by expressing a personal inclination toward the Democratic position. For several years he has been connected with administration. What has he ever said or done to bring this question before the public? What enthusiasm has he shown in the reformation of the senate? What influence could he exert in behalf of a reform which his party has openly and notoriously condemned in its convention, and to which he is attached only by a belated expression of personal inclination?

The Gateway to Other Reforms.

"Shall the people rule?" Every remedial measure of a national character must run the gauntlet of the senate. The president may personally incline toward a reform, but he must have the popular election of senators as "the gateway to other national reforms." Shall we open the gate, or shall we allow exploiting interests to bar the way by the control of this branch of the federal legislature? Through a Democratic victory and through a Democratic victory only, can the people secure the popular election of senators. The smaller parties are unable to secure this reform; the Republican party, under its present leadership, is resolutely opposed to it; the Democratic party stands for it and has boldly demanded it. If I am elected to the presidency, those who are elected upon my ticket with me will be like myself, pledged to this reform, and I shall convene congress in extraordinary session immediately after inauguration, and ask, among other things, for the fulfillment of this platform pledge.

House Rules Despotic.

The third instrumentally employed to defeat the will of the people is found in the rules of the house of representatives. Our platform points out that "the house of representatives was designed by the fathers of the constitution, to be the popular branch of our government, responsive to the public will," and adds:

"The house of representatives, as controlled in recent years by the Republican party, has ceased to be a deliberative and legislative body responsive to the will of a majority of the members, but has come under the absolute domination of the speaker, who has entire control of its deliberations, and powers of legislation."

"We have observed with amazement the popular branch of our federal government helpless to obtain either the consideration or enactment of measures desired by a majority of its members."

This arraignment is fully justified. The reform Republicans in the house of representatives, when in the minority in their own party, are as helpless to obtain a hearing or to secure a vote upon a measure as are the Democrats. In the recent session of the present congress, there was a considerable element in the Republican party favorable to remedial legislation; but a few leaders, in control of the organization, despotically suppressed these members, and thus forced a real majority in the house to submit to a well organized minority. The Republican national convention, instead of rebuking this attack upon popular government, eulogized congress and nominated as the Republican candidate for vice-president one of the men who shared in the responsibility for the coercion of the house. Our party demands that "the house of representatives shall again become a deliberative body, controlled by a majority of the people's representatives, and not by the speaker," and is pledged to adopt "such rules and regulations to govern the house of representatives as will enable a majority of its members to direct its deliberations and control legislation."

"Shall the people rule?" They can not do so unless they can control the house of representatives, and through their representatives in the house give expression to their purposes and their desires. The Republican party is committed to the methods now in vogue

That our American forests abound in plants which possess the most valuable medicinal virtues is abundantly attested by scores of the most eminent medical writers and teachers. Even the untutored Indians had discovered the usefulness of many native plants before the advent of the white race. This information, imparted freely to the whites, led the latter to continue investigations until to-day we have a rich assortment of most valuable American medicinal roots.

Dr. Pierce believes that our American forests abound in most valuable medicinal roots for the cure of most obstinate and fatal diseases, if we would properly investigate them; and in confirmation of this conviction, he points with pride to the numerous medicinal cures effected by his "Golden Medical Discovery," which has proven itself to be the most efficacious stomach, liver, invigorator, heart tonic and regulator, and blood cleanser known to medical science. Dyspepsia, or indigestion, torpid liver, functional and even valvular and other affections of the heart yield to its curative action. The reason why it cures these and many other affections, is clearly shown in a little book of extracts from the standard medical works which is mailed free to any address by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., to all sending request for the same.

Not less marvelous, in the unparalleled cures it is constantly making of woman's many peculiar affections, weaknesses and distressing derangements, is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as is amply attested by thousands of published testimonials contributed by grateful patients who have been cured by it of catarrhs, leukorrhea, painful periods, irregularities, prolapse and other displacements caused by weakness, ulceration of uterus and kindred affections, often after many other advertised medicines, and physicians had failed.

Both the above mentioned medicines are wholly made up from the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots. The processes employed in their manufacture were original with Dr. Pierce, and they are carried on by skilled chemists and pharmacists with aid of apparatus and appliances specially designed and built for this purpose. Both medicines are entirely free from alcohol and all other harmful, habit-forming drugs, and full list of their ingredients is printed on each bottle wrapper.

A GOOD NIGHT'S REST

"Speak for it!" she cried to doggie. For she knew in her little heart, That German Syrup, home's great treasure, Could health and joy impart.

"The greatest tonic on earth is a good night's rest. Restless nights and the terrible exhaustion of a hacking cough are dread dangers of the poor consumptive. But why this fear of the night when a few doses of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup will insure refreshing sleep, entirely free from cough or night sweat? Free expectation in the morning is made certain by taking German Syrup."

"We know by the experience of over thirty-five years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchial or lung troubles—and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders."

GENTLE VOICE A GREAT CHARM.

One of the Most Powerful Attractions in a Woman.

Very few women realize what an effect a sweet voice has on a man. A woman may be very pretty to look upon, may be faultlessly and bewitchingly attired and attractive in every way, and yet directly she opens her mouth and speaks the spell is broken, the charm is gone. And this need never be.

Very few voices are so naturally bad that they will not succumb to training, and the voice can be trained to be just as sweet and gentle as one pleases to make it.

A woman should speak in a low voice. She should not allow her voice to raise itself to a high pitch.

A shrill-voiced woman is terrible. She should not shout her orders to the servants down the stairs, nor call to any one who may be in another part of the house. This shouting and raising of the voice spoils the tone and quality of the voice and tends to make it harsh. A pretty voice is a powerful attraction in a woman and she who would add to her charms a wondrous fascination should cultivate a voice "ever soft, gentle and low."

of the requirements of the situation. He says: "If I am elected president, I shall urge upon congress, with every hope of success, that a law be passed requiring the filing, in a federal office, of a statement of the contributions received by committee and candidates in elections for members of congress, and in such other elections as are constitutionally within the control of congress."

I shall not embarrass him by asking him upon what he bases his hope of success; it is certainly not on any encouragement he has received from Republican leaders. It is sufficient to say that if his hopes were realized—if, in spite of the adverse action of his convention, he should succeed in securing the enactment of the very law which he favors, it would give but partial relief. He has read the Democratic platform; not only his language, but his evident alarm indicates that he has read it carefully. He even had before him the action of the Democratic national committee in interpreting and applying that platform; and yet, he fails to say that he favors the publication of the contributions before the election. Of course, it satisfies a natural curiosity to find out how an election has been purchased, even when the knowledge comes too late to be of service, but why should the people be kept in darkness until the election is past? Why should the locking of the door be delayed until the horse is gone?

An Election a Public Affair.

An election is a public affair. The people, exercising the right to select their officials and to decide upon the policies to be pursued, proceed to their several polling places on election day and register their will. What excuse can be given for secrecy, the influences at work? If a man is peculiarly interested in "concentrating the control of the railroads in one management," subscribes a large sum to aid in carrying the election, why should his part in the campaign be concealed until he has put the officials under obligation to him? Is a senators is most responsible for the obstruction of reforms. For 100 years after the adoption of the constitution, the demand for the popular election of senators, while finding increased expression, did not become a dominant sentiment. A constitutional amendment had from time to time been suggested, and the matter had been more or less discussed in a few of the states, but the movement had not reached a point where it manifested itself through congressional action. In the Fifty-second congress, however, a resolution was reported from a house committee proposing the necessary constitutional amendment, and this resolution passed the house of representatives by a vote which was practically unanimous. In the Fifty-third congress a similar resolution was reported to, and adopted by the house of representatives. Both the Fifty-second and Fifty-third congresses were Democratic, and the Republicans gained control of the house as a result of the election of 1894 and in the Fifty-fourth congress the proposition died in committee. As time went on, however, the sentiment grew among the people, until it forced a Republican congress to follow the example set by the Democrats, and then another and another Republican congress acted favorably. State after state has endorsed this reform, until nearly two-thirds of the states have recorded themselves in its favor. The United States senate, however, impudently and arrogantly obstructs the passage of the resolution, notwithstanding the fact that the voters of the United States, by an overwhelming majority, demand it. And this refusal is the more significant when it is remembered that a number of senators owe their elections to great corporate interests. Three Democratic national platforms—the platforms of 1900, 1904 and 1908—specifically call for a change in the constitution which will put the election of senators in the hands of the voters, and the proposition has been endorsed by a number of the smaller parties, but no Republican national convention has been willing to champion

Grand Jury Exonerates Officials.

The grand jury of Calloway county brought in a report exonerating Judge Cook and Commonwealth's Attorney Smith from having any relations with night riders. The grand jury made a thorough investigation of rumors connecting the two officials with the outlaw bands that have terrorized Southwestern Kentucky for some time, at the suggestion of Judge Cook. After the report the special term of the Calloway Circuit Court adjourned. A few hours after adjournment a barn was burned in the county. The fire was attributed to night riders.

Sneak Thief.

On Saturday morning a sneak thief entered the kitchen of Mr. Buckner Woodford's residence, on the corner of Main and Tenth streets, while the cook was in another part of the house, and picked up the pocketbook of Mary Mack, who was lying on a table and quickly made his exit. He was discovered by Milby Parker, however, the colored manservant of the house, who gave chase. Parker overtook the thief and caught him in the little alley, near the barbershop at the depot. He brought him back to the Woodford residence and stood guard over him until an officer arrived and landed him in jail. The pocketbook contained between eight and ten dollars, which was recovered.

Meeting Of Democratic Committee.

At a meeting of the Bourbon County Democratic Committee Saturday the following names were ordered sent to the State Commissioners for them to select the Democratic Election Commissioner for Bourbon County: B. B. Marsh, Ed. Kash, Geo. W. Morrow, W. D. McClintock and C. C. Clarke. The State Commissioners name one Democrat and one Republican to act in conjunction with the Sheriff of the county as Election Commissioners. The five names sent to the Republican Commissioners, as they now stand, would be hard to beat from a Democratic standpoint.

DEATHS.

—Joe Banta, aged about 40 years, died Sunday at his home at Little Rock, this county, of typhoid fever. Mr. Banta was the manager of the East Tennessee Telephone Co. at that place. He is survived by a wife and several children. His funeral will take place tomorrow morning at North Middletown.

MATRIMONIAL.

—Mr. Lawrence Mitchell and Miss Bessie Young, both of North Middletown, were united in marriage at the home of the officiating minister, Elder Mark Collis, in Lexington Saturday. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mr. Wm. Young, while the groom is a popular young grocer, of North Middletown. The attendants were Messrs. A. J. Skillman and Claude Coons, who arranged all of the preliminaries for the happy young couple. Anelegant wedding supper was enjoyed by the party at the Phoenix Hotel.

—Mr. James Batterton and Miss Maid Lovell, both of this city, were united in marriage yesterday afternoon, at the home of the officiating minister, Elder Spencer, in Lexington. Mr. Batterton is a member of the well-known grocery firm of Batterton & Doty, and one of Paris' most popular and enterprising young business men. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Lovell of near town, and is an attractive and most estimable young woman. We congratulate the groom in winning this lovely young lady for his life partner. They left Lexington immediately after the ceremony, for several days stay in Louisville.

Watch, Listen for Wedding Bells.

As the day draws nearer interest in the wedding announced to take place at the Paris Grand on Saturday, August 22, continues to increase. There have been several rumors to the effect that the wedding was to be a "fake" and this rumor the management wishes to strongly deny. The wedding will be legally solemnized on the stage of the Grand.

Nothing, probably since the announcement that there would be a baby given away at the Grand, has caused more comment than the fact that there was to be a wedding solemnized publicly in this theatre. For the past three weeks it has been the subject of discussion throughout the city and much speculation as to who the contracting parties may be is being engaged in.

One night this week at the Grand, Manager Jackson will present his patrons with neat little wedding bells just to keep the date of the wedding fresh in the minds of the public, and a large wedding bell will ring on the evening the nuptial knot will be tied—so watch and listen for the bells.

The Circus Tax.

County Clerks all over Kentucky are in for it, if the suits shortly to be filed by State Revenue Agent M. P. Rehorn take effect. Mr. Rehorn on advice of the State Auditor will summon the County Clerks in whose counties performances have been given to show cause why they did not tax circuses to the letter of the new law, which provides that for each hundred voters in the county a circus shall be taxed $5, not to exceed $50, and the same terms for each side show. He discovered that John Robinson's Circus lately toured nearly every county in Kentucky under the old license of $5 and Rehorn says that he means to get it from the Clerks.

Preferred Death to Jail.

Emily Bluesky, a colored woman, confined in the county jail at Harrodsburg on a charge of housebreaking, committed suicide Sunday afternoon by taking a large quantity of Paris green. The woman was arrested Friday on the charge of having broken into a residence and stealing a sum of money. She was tried in the city court and held to the grand jury. In a note found in her cell, which she had written before taking the poison, she stated that she had rather be in hell than in jail.

In the house of representatives, the Democratic party is pledged to such a revision of the rules as will bring the popular branch of the federal government into harmony with the ideas of those who framed our constitution and founded our government.

Other Issues Will Be Discussed Later.

"Shall the people rule?" I repeat, is declared by our platform to be the overshadowing question, and as the campaign progresses, I shall take occasion to discuss this question as it manifests itself in other issues. For the time being we consider the tariff question, the trust question, the railroad question, the banking question, the labor question, the question of imperialism, the development of our waterways, or any other of the numerous problems which press for solution, we shall find that the real question involved in each is, whether the government shall remain a mere business asset of favor seeking corporations or be an instrument in the hands of the people for the advancement of the common weal.

Democrats Have Earned Confidence.

If the voters are satisfied with the record of the Republican party and with its management of public affairs we can not reasonably ask for a change in administration; if, however, the voters feel that the people, as a whole, have too little influence in shaping the policies of the government; if they feel that great combinations of capital have encroached upon the rights of the masses, and employed the instrumentalities of government to secure an unfair share of the total wealth produced, then we have a right to expect a reversal against the Republican party and in favor of the Democratic party; for our party has risked defeat—aye, suffered defeat—in its effort to arouse the conscience of the public and to bring about that very awakening to which Mr. Taft has referred.

Only those are worthy to be entrusted with leadership in a great cause who are willing to die for it, and the Democratic party has proven its worthiness by its refusal to purchase victory by delivering the people into the hands of those who have expelled them. In this contest between Democracy on the one side and plutocracy on the other, the Democratic party has taken its position on the side of equal rights, and invites the opposition of those who use politics to secure special privileges and governmental favoritism. Gauging the progress of the nation, not by the happiness or wealth or refinement of a few, but "by the prosperity and advancement of the average man," the Democratic party charges the Republican party with being the promoter of present abuses, the opponent of necessary remedies and the only bulwark of private monopoly. The Democratic party affirms that in this campaign it is the only party, having a prospect of success, which stands for justice in government and for equity in the division of the fruits of industry.

Democratic Party Defends Honest Wealth.

We may expect those who have committed large sums of money to industry with their political influence, to attempt to raise false issues, and to employ "the livery of heaven" to conceal their evil purposes, but they can no longer deceive. The Democratic party is not the enemy of any legitimate industry or of honest accumulations. It is, on the contrary, a friend of industry and the steadfast protector of that wealth which represents a service to society. The Democratic party does not seek to annihilate all corporations; it simply asserts that as the government creates corporations, it must retain the power to regulate and to control them and that it should not permit any corporation to convert itself into a monopoly. Surely we should have the co-operation of all legitimate corporations in our effort to protect business and industry from the selfishness of the few who combine capital, if unchecked, cast upon them. Only by the separation of the good from the bad can the good be made secure.

Not Revolution But Reformation.

The Democratic party seeks not revolution but reformation, and I need hardly remind the student of history that cures are mildest when applied at once; that remedies increase in severity as their application is postponed. Blood poisoning may be stopped by the loss of a finger to-day; it may cost an arm to-morrow or a life the next day. So poison in the body politic can not be removed too soon, for the evils produced by it increase with the lapse of time. That there are abuses which need to be remedied, even the Republican candidate admits; that his party is unable to remedy them, has been fully demonstrated during the last ten years. I have such confidence in the intelligence as well as the patriotism of the people, that I can not doubt their readiness to accept the reasonable reforms which our party proposes, rather than permit the continued growth of existing abuses to hurry the country on to remedies more radical and more drastic.

Our Party's Ideal.

The platform of our party closes with a brief statement of the party's ideal. It favors "such an administration of the government as will insure, as far as human wisdom can, that each citizen shall draw from society a reward commensurate with his contribution to the welfare of society."

Governments are good in proportion as they assure to each member of society, so far as governments can, a return commensurate with individual merit.

The Divine Law of Rewards.

There is a Divine law of rewards. When the Creator gave us the earth, with its fruitful soil, the sunshine, with its warmth, and the rains with their moisture, he proclaimed, as clearly as if his voice had thundered from the clouds: "Go work, and according to your industry and your intelligence, so shall be your reward." Only where might has overthrown, cunning undermined or government suspended this law, has a different law prevailed. To conform the government to this law ought to be the ambition of the statesman; and no party can have a higher mission than to make it a reality wherever governments can legitimately operate.

Justice to All.

Recognizing that I am indebted for my nomination to the rank and file of our party, and that my election must come, if it comes at all, from the unpurchased and unpurchased suffrages of the American people, I promise, if entrusted with the responsibilities of this high office, to consecrate whatever ability I have to the one purpose of making this, in fact, a government in which the people rule—a government which will do justice to all, and offer to every one the highest possible stimulus to great and persistent effort, by assuring to each the enjoyment of his just share of the proceeds of his toil, no matter in what part of the vineyard he labors, or to what occupation, profession or calling he devotes himself.

Good Drink for the Morning.

It is not a bad idea to have a slice of two of lemon in a glass beside one's bed. In the morning cool water, which has been standing in a covered pitcher, can be poured over the lemon and drunk before arising.

is manifold. In the first place it is the best light produced by man. In the next place it is clean. It is safe, too. No matches to light, no flame to set fire to things. Shall we supply the electric light to your house? It isn't expensive. It certainly is the modern light without which you can not claim to be up to date.

Chronic Diarrhoea Relieved.

M. Edward E. Henry, with the United States Express Co., Chicago, writes, "Our General Superintendent, Mr. Quick, handed me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy some time ago to check an attack of the old chronic diarrhoea. I have used it since that time and cured many of our trains who have been sick. I am an old soldier who served with Rutherford B. Hayes and William McKinley four years in the 23rd Ohio Regiment, and have no ailment except chronic diarrhoea, which this remedy stops at once." For sale by W. T. Brooks. You need no other guarantee. aug

Valuable Tame Rattlesnake.

A tame rattlesnake belonging to an Arizona farmer sleeps every night on the front gate of its owner's garden, coiling himself around the gate and gatepost, so that a lock and chain to keep out intruders are not needed.

A Faithful Friend.

"I have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy since it was first introduced to the public in 1872, and have never found one instance where a cure was not speedily effected by its use. I have been a commercial traveler for eighteen years, and never start out on a trip without this, my faithful friend," says H. S. Nichols, of Oakland, Ind. Ter. When a man has used a remedy for thirty-five years he knows its value and is competent to speak for it. For sale by W. T. Brooks. You need no other guarantee. aug

The Philosopher of Folly.

"When a young woman has only a chafing dish and a tea pot," says the Philosopher of Folly, "she's a Bachelor Girl; but if some one gives her a stein and a set of cocktail glasses, she becomes a Bohemian."

Thinks it Saved His Life.

Lester M. Nelson, of Naples, Maine, says in a recent letter: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery many years, for coughs and colds, and I think it saved my life. I have found it a reliable remedy for throat and lung complaints, and would not be without a bottle than I would without food." For nearly forty years New Discovery has stood at the head of throat and lung remedies. As a preventive of pneumonia, and healer of weak lungs it has no equal. Sold under guarantee at Oberdorfer's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. aug

Enigmatical Calamity.

Men have often abandoned what was visible for the sake of what was uncertain, have not got what they expected and have lost what they had—being unfortunate by an enigmatical sort of calamity.—Demetrius Phalerus.

A Grand Family Medicine.

"It gives me pleasure to speak a good word for Electric Bitters," writes Mr. Frank Conlan of No. 436 Houston St., New York. "It's a grand family medicine for dyspepsia and liver complications; while for lame back and weak kidneys it cannot be too highly recommended." Electric Bitters regulate the digestive functions, purify the blood, and impart renewed vigor and vitality to the weak and debilitated of both sexes. Sold under guarantee at Oberdorfer's drug store. 50 cents. aug Bucklen's Arnica Salve Wins.

Tom Moore, of Rural Route 1, Cochran, Ga., writes: "I had a bad sore come on the instep of my foot and could find nothing that would heal it until I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Less than half of a 25 cent box won the day for me by affecting a perfect cure." Sold under guarantee at Oberdorfer's drug store. aug

Ill-Health.

There is a great deal of ill-health which deserves not sympathy or pity, but criticism and condemnation, and a worship of good health, including works as well as faith, might with advantage be made a feature of the national religion.—London Hospital.

The Best Pills Ever Sold.

"After doctoring 15 years for chronic indigestion, and spending over two hundred dollars, nothing has done me as much good as Dr. King's New Life Pills. I consider them the best pills ever sold," writes B. P. Ayscue, of Ingelside, N. C. Sold under guarantee at Oberdorfer's drug store. 25c.

Diarrhoea Cured.

"My father has for years been troubled with diarrhoea, and tried every means possible to effect a cure, without avail," writes John H. Zirkle, of Philippi, W. Va. "He saw Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy advertised in the Philippi Republican and decided to try it. The result is one bottle cured him and he has not suffered with the disease for eighteen months. Before taking this remedy he was a constant sufferer. He is now sound and well, and although sixty years old, can do as much work as a young man." Sold by W. T. Brooks. You need no other guarantee.

WHEELER'S MIGHTY CLEARANCE SALE

ENTERED UPON ITS SECOND GREAT WEEK MONDAY

WITHOUT DOUBT THIS IS THE GREATEST HOUSE FURNISHING SALE THAT PARIS HAS EVER KNOWN.
POSITIVELY THE GRANDEST VALUES IN THE HISTORY OF THE FURNITURE TRADE.

The statement thus boldly made is justified by existing conditions. No furniture dealer in America would dare quote such astoundingly low prices if not forced to by unavoidable circumstances. The discontinuance of our Owensboro store throws upon our hands thousands of dollars worth of high grade furniture that we are unable to house. To make room for these goods present stocks must be unmercifully sacrificed. We are face to face with a condition that demands heroic action. Only those fortunate enough to attend this mighty, unparalleled furniture clearance can comprehend the extent of the price sacrifices. Our mammoth stock of dependable house furnishings are now offered to the wise, provident buyers of Central Kentucky at the lowest prices ever named by any legitimate dealer in America.

REMEMBER, THIS GREAT SALE RESUMES THIS MORNING AT PROMPTLY 3 O'CLOCK. COME.
